Always looking up : Nancy Grace Roman, astronomer

by Laura Gehl

"A picture book biography of Nancy Grace Roman, the astronomer who overcame obstacles such as weakening eyesight and teachers who did not believe astronomy was an appropriate career for a woman to lead the NASA team to build the Hubble Space Telescope. This is the empowering story of a female scientist's triumphs at a time when society discouraged women from pursuing scientific careers. It is also the story of an important milestone in the field of astronomy. But more than anything, it is a reminder to all of us: do what you love - and keep looking up"

Miss Mingo and the 100th day of school

by Jamie Harper

Planning special themed events for the 100th day of school, Miss Mingo helps her students through numerical show-and-tell demonstrations, oversees creative arts-and-crafts activities and inspires readers to express themselves through their celebrations. By the creator of the Baby Bundt series. Illustrations.

Hungry Jim

by Laurel Snyder

Waking up with a monstrously metaphorical appetite, young Jim imagines himself as a ravenous lion who swallows up everyone in his path, before an encounter with a bear helps him set aside his own inner beast and try a pancake instead. Simultaneous eBook. Illustrations.
